3 GENERAL INFORMATION

3.1 Georgia in Brief

3.1.1 Geography

Georgia is a country in the Caucasus region of Eurasia. Located at the crossroads of Western Asia and Eastern Europe, it is bounded to the west by the Black Sea, to the north by Russia, to the south by Turkey and Armenia, and to the southeast by Azerbaijan. Georgia covers a territory of 69,700 square kilometres (26,911 sq mi), and its population is almost 5 million. Georgia is a unitary, semi-presidential republic, with the government elected through a representative democracy.

3.1.2 Climate

The climate of Georgia is extremely diverse, considering the nation's small size. There are two main climatic zones, roughly separating Eastern and Western parts of the country. The Greater Caucasus Mountain Range plays an important role in moderating Georgia's climate and protects the nation from the penetration of colder air masses from the north. The Lesser Caucasus Mountains partially protect the region from the influence of dry and hot air masses from the south as well.

3.1.3 Population, Ethnicity and Language

Population: approximately 5 million people

Ethnicity: Georgia is a multi-ethnic country with various nationalities.

Language: Georgian

3.1.4 Religion

As for the religion communities, the majority of Georgia people are Orthodox Christians, but there are also many Muslims, Catholics and Jewish.

3.2 Tbilisi City in Brief

Tbilisi, formerly known as Tiflis, is the capital and the largest city of Georgia, lying on the banks of the Mtkvari River with a population of roughly 1.5 million inhabitants. Founded in the 5th century by the monarch of Georgia's ancient precursor Kingdom of Iberia, Tbilisi has since served, with intermissions, as the Georgian capital.

Located on the south-eastern edge of Europe, Tbilisi's proximity to lucrative east-west trade routes often made the city a point of contention between various rival empires throughout history and the city's location to this day ensures its position as an important transit route for global energy and trade projects. Tbilisi's varied history is reflected in its architecture, which is a mix of medieval, classical, and Soviet structures.

Historically, Tbilisi has been home to people of diverse cultural, ethnic, and religious backgrounds, though it is overwhelmingly Eastern Orthodox Christian. Notable tourist destinations include cathedrals like Sameba and Sioni, classical Freedom Square and Rustaveli Avenue, medieval Narikala Fortress, pseudo-Moorish Opera Theater, and the Georgian National Museum.

3.2.1 Sport

Tbilisi has a fairly rich sports history. Like many other towns of the Near East with strong Asian cultural influences, Tbilisi historically had a special area of town that was designated for sports competitions. The present-day districts of Saburtalo and Didube were the most common areas where such competitions were held. Up until the beginning of the 19th century, sports such as horse-riding (polo in particular), wrestling, boxing, and marksmanship were the most popular city sports. As Tbilisi started to develop socially and economically and integrate more with the West, new sports from Europe were introduced.

The most popular sports in Tbilisi today are football, rugby union, basketball, and wrestling. Also popular sports include tennis, swimming and water polo. There are several professional football and rugby teams as well as wrestling clubs. U.S. National Basketball Association players Zaza Pachulia and Nikoloz Tskitishvili are Tbilisi natives. Outside of professional sports, the city has a number of inter-collegiate and amateur sports teams and clubs.

Tbilisi's signature football team, Dinamo Tbilisi, has not won a major European championship since 1981, when it won the European Cup Winners' Cup and became the easternmost team in Europe to achieve the feat. The basketball club Dinamo Tbilisi won the Euroleague in 1962 but also never repeated any such feat.

3.2.2 Climate

The climate of Tbilisi can be classified as moderately humid subtropical. The city's climate is influenced both by dry (Central Asian/Siberian) air masses from the east and humid subtropical (Atlantic/Black Sea) air masses from the west. Tbilisi experiences relatively cold winters and hot summers. Because the city is bounded on most sides by mountain ranges, the close proximity to large bodies of water (Black and Caspian Seas) and the fact that the Greater Caucasus Mountain Range (further to the north) blocks the intrusion of cold air masses from Russia, Tbilisi has a relatively mild micro-climate compared to other cities that possess a similar continental climate along the same latitudes. The climate data in July is as follows:

Record High °C	Average High °C	Average Low °C	Record Low °C	Precipitation mm	Humidity %	Mean monthly sunshine hours
40,0	31,0	19,4	9,3	41

3.2.3 Useful Information

- at the end of the rotation/group for the qualifying competitions, the all-around competitions and the team competition (final)
- before the score of the following gymnast or group is shown for the finals.

Athletes selected for the doping control will receive transportation services to/from doping control station. They always have to wear their accreditation while reaching the doping control station.

All athletes taking any medication that is listed in the WADA 2015 Prohibition List must provide a medical report stating the necessity of such treatment. It is necessary to obtain Therapeutic Use Exemption (TUE) prior to the Festival from the National Anti-Doping Organization (NADO) and accordingly from the respective list. Corresponding information on TUE should be sent to the Doping Manager. Athletes should send the TUE application in advance to the EF or NADO prior to the festival. After the TUE is approved NADO should send the written confirmation to the athlete's NOC.

Deadline for submission of TUE to the OC is 11 July 2015.

All accredited participants can use the official EYOF 2015 shuttle bus transportation to venues and back as well as the public transport free of charge.
